Topic: Global Warming

Reminding the general assembly that all nations should have an action plan to tackle Global Warming. For the matter is not just one nation's problem, but the whole world,

Realizing that there is overwhelming evidence that the Earth has warmed during the Industrial Era and that the main cause of this warming is human interference. This evidence includes increases in near-surface and lower-atmosphere air temperature, sea surface temperature, and ocean heat content,

Noting that Canada is, on average, experiencing warming at twice the rate of the rest of the world, with Northern Canada heating up at almost three times the global average, according to a new government report,

Encourages all nations to unite as one to help find a solution to this high stakes issue before it is too late;

Urges all nations to comply with the Paris Agreement to increase the chances of survival and a long term improvement in the climate;

Requests that Canada and the rest of the world reduce carbon emissions to near zero early in the second half of the century and reduce emissions of other greenhouse gases substantially;

Calls for the U.N. to pass legislation to hold nations accountable for their carbon footprint.
